

B+B Corona steps

We are still 100% available for you in this difficult time. As a reliable partner in measurement technology, we are always there for you in the corona crisis and help wherever we can. Nevertheless, the health and safety of all employees, customers, suppliers and service providers comes first. To ensure this, we have taken extensive measures. In addition to the now known measures "keep a distance of 1.5 m" and "do not form crowds of people", we also ensure safety with disinfection options, home office and relaxed working hours. The expansion of the IT infrastructure in particular is currently being pushed forward to limit personal contact as far as possible and to solve communication, both externally and internally, using the latest tools. This is also imperative since B+B has decided to seal off the two separate buildings at the Donaueschingen location and to prevent the "running traffic" between the buildings. This ensures fewer personal contacts and increases the security of each individual.

In addition to the protective measures already mentioned, B+B quickly solved the problem of inadequate protective masks itself. The protective masks are now produced on the company's own 3D printer and then assembled. These masks are particularly used in production, since it is difficult to isolate employees in their own rooms or even in their home office.

You can get a little insight into the production of B + B protective masks here: YouTube-Link

In addition to the protective measures for the employees, we also faced the challenge of not abandon you as a customer. Due to the lack of care for our smallest family members, there was a great risk that many employees would have to stay at home to look after their children. In the event that it was a production employee, a home office solution would not have been possible. Here we actively supported our employees in finding childcare and also started small, in-house childcare. Employees who could not find a private childcare solution have the opportunity to have their children looked after directly at B+B. Of course, this support also takes place under the strictest, specified guidelines.

We continue to be able to deliver and are working hard to maintain our ability to deliver.

Do you need an offer, technical information or do you have any questions about your order? Do not hesitate to contact us! We can be reached by phone, fax or email. You will also find extensive information on our website or a large selection of products in our online shop.

B + B is 100% productive, our sales are 100% available - let's get started together from the crisis! We are here for you! Stay healthy! Your B + B Thermo-Technik GmbH